WILSON REPLY TO KAISER'S CHALLENGE READY Germany Stakes All On Finish Fight to Win War

SHIP DEPARTURE BAN AT HARBOR OF NEW YORK IS LIFTED

Extra Police Guard Interned
German Vessels; Attaches
Of Allies Confer

WARCRAFT MAINTAIN PORT'S NEUTRALITY

1000 British Ships On Hand to Act As Convoys
Across Atlantic

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—After special guards had been established about interned German liners anchored at Hoboken and other New York piers, the order issued by Collector of the Port Malone last night, prohibiting departure of any ships was lifted today.

It is possible the port may be closed again tonight as it was last night. Two American destroyers are off the harbor to enforce neutrality.

At the offices of the International Mercantile Marine it was said they were given to understand their freighter Philadelphia could depart today if desired. The Philadelphia had a minor collision with a barge, however, and at noon was still anchored off the Statue of Liberty.

Several vessels were turned back after the closing order was issued last night, but so far as known none had resumed their voyages today.

Extra Police on Guard
Over Teuton Ships

All German ships, which include the Vaterland, the President Lincoln, Frederick Der Grosse, Prince Eitel Friedrich and others were under close surveillance today. Extra police and deputies were assigned to the piers where these ships are tied up.

The British and French naval attaches conferred today and announced that they could take no action until they received instructions from their home governments.

Officials of steamship lines said no cancellations of sailing had been ordered as yet. They apparently were taking no action until the situation clears.

British steamship officials announced they had no authority to cancel or postpone sailings as such action would have to be ordered from London.

They were bitter and ironical in their comments on the German proclamation, and instructions to the American government regarding painting ships. One expressed the opinion that "American shippers would play hell" conforming to the German decorative scheme by which American ships are to be identified.

Torpedo Boat Destroyers Maintain Neutrality

Two torpedo boat destroyers are maintaining neutrality off the harbor, steamship officials said.

The British Atlantic fleet was en route to the waters off New York harbor two days ago, ostensibly bent on chasing the German raider which has been operating in the South Atlantic. The entire fleet is now in possession to convoy shipping if necessary, according to admission in British circles here.

By order of Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, a United States destroyer stationed at quarantine in New York harbor turned back all ships last night. No reason was given, but it was supposed the action was taken to give shipowners time to learn the gravity of Germany's message.

British naval preparations around New York harbor within the last few days gave ample proof, according to shipping circles, that Great Britain knew of the approaching pronouncement of Germany.

Great Britain's North Atlantic squadron was ordered several days ago into waters adjacent to this harbor, ostensibly for the purpose of searching for a German raider.

1000 British Vessels on Hand for Convoys

It is now believed these precautions were taken with a view to using the warships as convoys for ships leaving New York.

Approximately two thousand American merchant seamen are now on the Atlantic bound for this country or Europe. In addition there are hundreds working as crews on foreign ships.

Taft Flays Teuton Declaration Upon Ruthless Naval War

Grossly Unwarranted Expansion of Blockade Rights
Says Ex-President

CONCORD, N. H., Feb. 1.—Former President Taft speaking before the legislature here today, denounced Germany's declaration of unrestrained naval warfare, calling it a "grossly unwarranted expansion of the rights of blockade."

Taft said:

"The dangerous crisis in our relations with Germany, forced by her declared intention to sink neutral vessels engaged in trade with France and England, their crews and passengers, without warning, by submarine warfare, is a grossly unwarranted expansion of the right of blockade, which belligerents have in international law against neutrals. It greatly emphasizes the necessity for hastening adequate military and naval preparedness against aggression. It also takes away the flattering illusion that we are now so remote from a European war that we should decline to enter a world league to enforce peace. Such a league in the future would be as useful and needed a protection to us as our leadership and participation in it are necessary to its formation and wise guidance. It is our duty to ourselves and to the world to help it protect itself against the horrors of another war."

SENATE DEBATER RAPPS WILSON PEACE IDEAS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Senator McCumber, Republican, today started a Senate debate on the President's address to that body despite the suggestions that he postpone comment at this time.

McCumber denounced the President's ideas, declaring, "any suggestion of the country to remodel European forms of government and reconstruct the map of Europe, would be taken about as seriously as our submarine notes or our Mexican threats."

"We face a critical situation. Matters are before us which involve the honor of the nation. The German note foreshadows an era of slaughter and starvation. It brings to mind forcefully our wish to stop the great war. It is not for the Senate to invade the rights of the President on such an occasion, but we can help him in his efforts for future universal peace by considering fully his message to this body."

In starting his debate of President Wilson's address Senator Lodge declared:

"I shall make no reference to the note from Germany that so startled the world this morning. That note places a great responsibility on the President and no word shall fall from my lips that might embarrass him in dealing with that note."

WE ACCEPT DEFINITIVE OF FOES, SAYS CHANCELLOR HOLLWEG

Teuton Leader In Reichstag
Speech Lays Down Attitude of His Country

BERLIN, Feb. 1.—The German press today supports the government in its move for a "barred zone" about Germany's enemies and the removal of naval warfare restrictions. There were no demonstrations. The people appear to be satisfied with the government's decision.

AMSTERDAM, Feb. 1.—Germany accepts the challenge to fight to the finish and is staking everything to win.

The Imperial Chancellor, Von Bethmann-Hollweg, thus summed up Germany's attitude in a speech which he made yesterday to the main committee of the Reichstag.

Dispatches today from Berlin quoted the Chancellor as follows:

"We have been challenged to fight to the finish; we accept and are staking everything."

"Many of President Wilson's maxims agree with our aims," the Imperial Chancellor said. "But the enemy's conditions mean that Germany's defensive force would be destroyed."

Continuing, the Chancellor, after enumerating and commenting on "the enemy's designs," declared:

"I cannot express it more strongly than to say that Germany accepts the challenge to fight to a finish and is staking everything."

In their reply to our peace offer our opponents declared they wanted only a peace which they dictated," the Chancellor continued. "Thus the whole guilt of the war's continuation falls upon our opponents alone. Conditions which they made are only accepted by a totally defeated people."

"President Wilson's speech in the Senate shows the sincerity of his desire for peace."

Discussing the new submarine policy, Chancellor Hollweg said:

"Since last autumn the time has been ripe, and now the moment has arrived when, with the greatest prospect of success, we can undertake the enterprise and therefore we must not wait longer."

After his speech in the Reichstag Chancellor Hollweg held a long conference with Ambassador Gerard. Berlin dispatches do not reveal the nature of the discussion.

SHIPS GO DOWN AS NEW U-BOAT CAMPAIGN IS LAUNCHED

British, Dutch and Belgian
Craft Destroyed By Undersea Terrors

LONDON, Feb. 1.—As Germany's new submarine campaign started today the Dutch steamer Epsilon was the first victim. Three British trawlers were also sunk.

There is much speculation but no official hint of the character of the British reprisals.

Officials say that the recent Allied naval conference was to prepare for such German action.

The British steamer Trevean and the Belgian steamer Euphrates are reported to have been sunk by Germany.

The Pall Mall Gazette, in an editorial typical of all papers today, said:

"This is Germany's supreme apocalypse of horror. The Kaiser stands the declared protagonist of indiscriminate bestial slaughter on a prepared plan, even while he is shedding crocodile tears as to the further desolation of the war of which he was the prime agent. Civilization merely repeats in a sterner tone its previous answer: 'We will no tame the beast that the world never need fear again.'"

Commenting on the German note, former Premier Asquith today said:

"It is impossible to dispute the gravity of the situation, but with the navy supplementing other ships, such as mining merchantmen and hastening new tonnage, we may hope to counteract it."

TEUTON VESSEL SAID SCUTTLED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The customs division of the Treasury Department today received a report that the crew of the interned steamer Liebenfels deliberately pulled out the sea cocks and sank the ship.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Feb. 1.—The German freighter Liebenfels, lying in harbor here since the war started, mysteriously today began to go down by the stern and continued sinking until her after deck was nearly awash and her bow raised in forty to fifty feet of water. Tugs standing by offered assistance, but it was refused, he captains said.

While no reason has been found for the sinking, shipping men in general leaned to the rumor that the Liebenfels must have been deliberately scuttled.

Capt. Klattenhoff commanded the vessel.

Holland-American liner Ryndam.
Italian liner America.
Cunard liner Saxonia.
Anchor liner California.
These ships are due in allied ports within a few days.
Many vessels are undoubtedly on their way to the United States unknown to shipping on this side, due to orders of the admiralty veiling with secrecy all movements of the British ships.

BULLETINS

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—This afternoon's newspapers reflect the view that the present situation is fraught with the gravest possibilities. Papers throughout the nation take the same serious view. Many frankly state that war seems a big possibility.

MADRID, Feb. 1.—The Spanish government and public was profoundly agitated today over Germany's notification forbidding neutral commerce with the allies under penalty of torpedoing, regardless of flag or cargo.
A special meeting of the cabinet was called to discuss the situation.
The cabinet officially announced that Spanish ships would continue to traffic with the allies but that "severe defense measures would be necessary."

COPENHAGEN, Feb. 1.—A specially summoned cabinet meeting today discussed the German note to America. It is understood the Riksdag (parliament) has been summoned in secret session.

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Intimations that the congressional investigation into the "leak" to Wall Street might come to a temporary halt, were made before the opening of the hearing today. STATE DEPARTMENT PUTS BAN ON YANKEE PASSPORTS TO PERSONS TRAVELING IN FOREIGN LANDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The state department today suspended the issuance of American passports to travellers abroad. No explanation was given. The length of time was not announced.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Withholding the expected announcement of the American contentions, Secretary Lansing this afternoon refused to make a statement. It was learned that he had not communicated with Count Von Bernstorff since he was handed the note so no passports were issued.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—President Wilson is about ready to announce America's answer to Germany. Secretary Lansing prepared a communication on advice from the President. The nature of the note was not revealed.

The action of the United States in refusing American passports might mean either foreshadowing a break, or the President Wilson has modified his former stand and decided to prevent Americans from travelling on the high seas, a Germany requested.

The possibility of diplomatic difficulties with Japan was seen when Counsellor Polk summoned Oregon and Idaho senators to ask them to use all their influence to prevent the legislatures passing anti-alien land laws. It is understood that the senators refused to interfere, although Counsellor Polk said that the laws are likely to bring a serious situation.

While no hint is available from any sources as to President Wilson's decision in the case with Germany, the gravity of Secretary Lansing's expression after his conference with the President plainly indicated that a most serious situation has developed.

STOCKS TUMBLE IN SALES RUSH

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—In a mad rush to unload, started by the German submarine proclamation, traders on the stock exchange today dumped hundreds of thousands of shares of stocks, causing a break of two to twenty-six points.

Leading industrials, shipping shares and "war brides" crashed downwards 6 to 26 points. The greatest loss was in Bethlehem Steel, which sold at $375. Rails broke 2 to 7 points.

United States Steel common broke 12 to 100 points, recovered 3 to 4 points when the market found support. International Mercantile Marine shares were among those hardest hit, preferred breaking 17 to 65 and common 8 to 20.

There were recoveries of one to ten points before 11 o'clock.

MINNEAPOLIS MAY WHEAT
TUMBLES 14 CENTS
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 1.—May wheat on the Chamber of Commerce opened this morning at a decline of 14 cents. July lost 13 cents from last night's close.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—Hog prices established a new record today. The top price at the opening of the market was $12.20 per 100 pounds, the highest since the Civil War.

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—The wheat market opened today at $1.60 for May, a loss of 11 1/2 cents over last night's close. Shortly afterward it recovered to $1.63.

July wheat opened at $1.40, a loss of 6 1/2 points.

September wheat opened at $1.29, off 7 1/2 cents.

Few persons in authority believe that a diplomatic break can mean other than war. Officials recall President Wilson's "sparks are flying" warning and Secretary Lansing's "verge war" statement.

Officials admit that they have foreseen the possibility of these things coming true and it is believed that they had advance knowledge of the German intention and some source it is claimed have known it for months.

It was expected that President Wilson would confer with the cabinet at the Senate foreign relations committee today and he was expected to make an effort to keep discussion off the floors of Congress.

It was learned that the port of New York was closed yesterday on Washington's orders.

LAST SAD RITES FOR DR. HERVEY ARE SAID

The Masonic Order, Which He Loved, Leads In Impressive Services

Mid beautiful flowers banked high, that betokened the beauty and loveliness of the spirit of the man departed, and "mid bowed heads and tears that told of breaking hearts, there were held yesterday the funeral rites for Dr. Albert Rhodes Hervey, cashier of the California National Bank, who died last Monday night.

Gathered at Smith & Tutill's chapel were hundreds of men and women who knew him. The friendship of some dated back to school days, others to the days of his professional life, and others into the man's career as a banker, others knew him as a neighbor, and all had called him friend.

One of the most touching moments of the impressive services was the reference made by Rev. R. R. Raymond to the home life of Dr. Hervey.

"Albert Hervey loved his home," said Rev. Raymond, who declared that Dr. Hervey's father's home was always his home, too. "He was a devoted son and brother, and I have always found that the one who clings close to the fireside does not go far wrong. After he was married and made his own home, he lived in it. He attended your lodge, but he lived at home. To him, everything centered about his home. He never tired talking about his loved ones.

"Right here, as a young man, was the dearest spot on earth to him. This building was the Hervey home, and this very room in which his body now rests was the family living room.

"In this life we find few men who enter more thoroughly into the spirit of helpfulness than did Dr. Hervey, and I pray God that the mantle of Dr. Hervey's gentle life will fall upon us. To the loved ones, I can only say that God alone can comfort you. The Lord wept at the grave of humanity, and we, too, weep at the grave of those we love."

The services yesterday were in charge of the Masonic order, of which Dr. Hervey was a devoted member and in which he was a leader.

Santa Ana Commandery, No. 36, Knights Templar, of which Dr. Hervey was eminent commander, acted as escort to Santa Ana Lodge, No. 241, F. and A. M., of which lodge Dr. Hervey last week was installed as senior warden, as the lodge proceeded from the temple to the chapel.

Scores of beautiful floral pieces and bouquets surrounded the casket as Fred C. Rowland, master of the lodge, and L. F. Harvey, marshal, advanced and began the beautifully impressive service, the last sad tribute of affection of brothers for brother.

Rev. A. T. O'Rear, pastor of the South Methodist Church, delivered a prayer that touched the hearts of his hearers. It was his offering of thanks that Dr. Hervey had lived as he had and that his life was such that to know him had been a blessing.

The lambkin apron was placed upon the bier by the master of the lodge and as the words, "dust unto dust," were spoken the marshal of the lodge placed rose leaves beside the apron.

With a double escort of Knights Templar, the casket was borne from the chapel, between the lines of Masons. From here the body was taken to Los Angeles for cremation, the ashes to be placed in the family lot at Inglewood cemetery.

The bearers of the casket were Fred A. Ross, Fred W. Mansur, George E. Peters, H. L. Hanson, E. B. Trago and E. B. Sprague. Honorary pallbearers were from the Knights Templar.

BRITISH REGARD NEW COMET DISCOVERED BY U. S. AS PEACE OMEN

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The announcement in America recently of the appearance of a new comet has excited interest in England. It is regarded as a peace omen and a prominent paper suggested that it be called the "peace comet" because the American reports say it will be visible to the naked eye during July, 1917, and that is the date when the prophets say peace will be declared.

Dr. A. C. D. Crommelin, a British astronomer, is authority for the statement that the "peace comet" will gradually approach the earth until July, when it will become faintly visible, but not a grand spectacle such as Halley's comet in 1910.

TODAY IS DAY TEUTON DIVERS ARE TO BEGIN BLOCKADE OF BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—This is the day rumor has set for Germany to establish its submarine blockade of the British Isles.

Travelers from Germany via Bergen, Norway, a few days ago insisted this scheme was to be put into effect today; and that Germany has thirty giant U-boats ready to patrol the blockaded area.

These subs, the travelers said, have a cruising radius of 6,000 miles, a speed of 18 knots on the surface and 12 submerged. Each is expected to patrol a ten-mile radius and each is said to have six torpedoes, two rapid fire guns, bomb-laying chambers and a large supply of bombs and grenades. They are said to carry five weeks' provisions each.

The blockaded area is reported to be the North Channel, between Ireland and Scotland; St. George's Channel, between England and Ireland and the English Channel entrance. All or not, it is said, will be stopped, their crews put in boats and the vessel sunk, without parley. Neutral vessels carrying contraband, it is said, will be sunk, after their crews have taken to their boats.

The idea is said to be to bring

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You Can Bring Back Color and Lustre With Sage Tea and Sulphur

—When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Weyth's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and not a medicine. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

BROOKLYN PRIEST IS NEARLY CONVICTED AS IRISH SINN FEINER

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Feb. 1.—There was a young Catholic priest from Brooklyn, N. Y., who just wriggled into England between the inhospitable claws of the British lion has unshakable to protect the empire against unwelcome visitors. The Philadelphia brought him to Liverpool from Flatbush, and nearly took him back. For Father William J. Fallon, well-known among the Catholic clergy of the East, was almost convicted of being an Irish rebel.

In the spontaneous arguments that developed in the smoking room of a transatlantic liner, the "little bit of heaven" had a warm supporter in the person of the enthusiastic young priest. Home rule for Ireland was his theme, and he upheld it vigorously before the florid Canadian lawyer.

One old gossip aboard, whose elbow was worn crooked and who, if he lived in London would be required to wear a shade over his nose at night under the Defense of the Realm Act, tipped off Captain Candy that he was harboring a Sinn Feiner.

When the alien officers came aboard the story had grown until Father Fallon was loaded with dynamite and a bosom companion of the late lamented Roger C. They had him up on the carpet.

For over an hour the battle raged. They searched his trunks, scattered his papers, forced him into damaging admissions, and got back always as good as they gave. The climax came when, to cinch their point, the officers called in several witnesses. They finally let him land.

NEW JANITORS TAKE THE COURTHOUSE JOB

Today Daniel Patrick took charge of the janitor's work at the courthouse, succeeding George Benedict, who was courthouse janitor for twenty-two years. Patrick's assistant is Frank Fleming, who succeeds J. F. Kinley. Patrick received his appointment about the first of January from the Board of Supervisors.

The Little Wonder Says:

Every day I accomplish something worth while for somebody. Do you notice what nice things folks say about my ability?

Only yesterday a lady called up and said I was responsible for the sale of a lot of wood she wanted to dispose of. In fact, she said I brought her many more customers than she could supply. Her name is Mrs. Frank Jones, and she lives at 17th and Prospect. Ask her for yourself.

Another man needed a situation. The very next day I put him in touch with a big firm.

Now if you need me for any of the following "Wants," just phone the Register, Pacific 4, Home 409.

FATTEN STEERS UPON ALFALFA MEAL, STRAW

Cattle Are Given All the Ground Product That They Can Eat

WESTMINSTER, Feb. 1.—Seventy-five head of fat steers were separated from the herd of more than 200 which J. Reuther has been fattening on the Ufford place south of town, and sold to the Anaheim Beef and Provision Company last Tuesday. They were in fine condition, having been fed all the alfalfa meal and bean straw they could eat, the alfalfa being fed in troughs one foot high and two feet wide and 20 feet long set at a convenient height on posts firmly set in the ground. A load of forty-five 100-pound sacks were distributed in these troughs every day for about two months.

The spelling match between this school and the Ocean View school will take place next week on Friday evening, February 9, at the school hall here, it being postponed from this week so that Superintendent R. P. Mitchell could be present and give 20 minutes or more entertainment with his moving picture machine before the match begins. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades of this district do hereby challenge to a spelling match, their fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, uncles, cousins and aunts and any one else in the district, teachers excepted, after the match with Ocean View. Superintendent Mitchell will select and pronounce the words.

There will be a box social afterwards and those who are interested and can be asked to bring a box of lunch. These boxes will be auctioned off to adults and sold to pupils at a uniform price. The proceeds will go towards purchasing a stereograph machine and slides for this school, which will prove an interesting means of instruction by showing geographical and other pictures. A large selection of pictures can be obtained by exchange with Los Angeles schools at the superintendent's office. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity to spend a pleasant evening and show their interest in the work being done for the school. Remember the date, February 9.

Friends of Irwin Farrar will be very sorry to learn of the death of his young wife, from hemorrhage of the lungs, at the Loma Linda Sanitarium last Monday. The funeral was held Thursday at the M. He was a former resident of Westminster, where he attended grammar school for several years.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep regular. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

CANNERY REPAIR WORK TO START

The second step in the industrial expansion of Santa Ana will start next week, when work of repairing the old cannery building for use this summer will start. The first step in the industrial growth of the city was taken last week when work was commenced on the building to house the woolen mills on East Washington avenue. The foundation for that structure has been completed and it is expected machinery will commence to arrive the latter part of this week. Advances are to the effect that the machinery is being loaded at Albuquerque today. When it arrives here it will have to be stored.

Information that work would commence on the cannery building next week was brought here this morning by E. J. Kitterman of Los Angeles. Kitterman will have the superintendency of the cannery and came here today for the purpose of securing a residence for himself and family. He is here now to stay and will move his family down just as soon as he finds a house suitable to his needs.

Kitterman has been with the California Packers corporation for some years and understands his business thoroughly.

He has been commissioned to start the work here at once and carry it through to completion as quickly as possible.

They did not attempt to reach the summit. All the party returned home Sunday evening except Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lamb and Mrs. D. W. Lamb, who stopped over for a visit at Pomona.

Recent Marriages and Some
Not So Recent Celebrated
With a Vim

TALBERT, Jan. 31.—Last week proved to be a week of charivaris for the Talbert section, four couples being honored by this attention from a crowd composed of a dozen or more of the boys. They first went to Huntington Beach, Tuesday evening, where they called upon Claud Swift and his bride. Later returned here where they surprised Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift of Lakeside, who were visitors at the A. F. Swift home.

Such a jolly time was experienced that evening by the boys that they concluded to keep the good work going. So Wednesday evening Rev. and Mrs. Andrews proved the "victims," after which Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Talbert, whose twenty-second wedding anniversary it was, were shown that the event had not been forgotten.

Delicious treats in abundance were given the callers by the "honorees" which were so much enjoyed that the boys are willing for a continuous run of like experiences.

The motto of the bunch is evidently "Better Late Than Never," as the first two couples called on were married a month ago, the third five months and the fourth twenty-two years. It would seem judging from this that all couples in the community might be eligible for charivaris.

200 FACTORIES BEGIN MOVING SO DOWNTOWN N. Y. WILL GET CHANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—Thirty of the 200 factories that are moving out of downtown New York to save the district to retail stores and to cut their exceedingly heavy rent, started to get out today. The balance of the 200 will depart gradually, as their leases expire, the last of them to be gone by the end of 1919. Many of them will move to Long Island City and other places in and around New York.

Some of them will cut their rent thereby from $40,000 a year to $20,000 or less. This, they say, will make a difference in the price and quality of their products sold to Chicago, San Francisco and other cities' stores. Five hundred million dollars' worth of clothing was made annually in this downtown area.

THE FARM LOAN BONDS

A new form of investment will soon be offered in the form of the mortgages on the property handled by the new farm loan banks. Whether these bonds bring good prices or not depends wholly on the way these loans are handled, and whether they are supervised in a way to give general confidence.

It would be a very easy thing for these new bonds to get a black eye. A few repudiated debts, a few poorly supervised loan associations, and word would spread all over the country that the new form of investment is not safe. As a consequence borrowers might have to pay quite as high for their money as they do under the present plan.

The reason why farm loans at present bring high rates of interest is that in the past there have been so many losses. Investors may not discriminate carefully, but then they are in no position to do so. The fact that a man's father, in the depression of twenty years ago, may have lost a thousand dollars on a loan on an arid tract in one state, should not discourage his son from making a loan on some fertile farm in a wholly different section.

But the son, living perhaps a thousand miles from the spot where the loan is located, is in no position to discriminate. His father's experience has made him cautious. Many experiences like that have served to raise the rate of farm loan interest all over the country.

The directors of the new farm loan associations have a very serious responsibility. Unless these directors really direct, the whole thing will be a failure. They should give some personal attention to the work, else money will surely be loaned out on poor security or to men who will let the value of their farms or groves run down. No director can assure the prosperity and the solidity of his institution merely by going to the annual meeting once a year, sitting in a stuffed chair, and listening to the report of the manager.

GO SLOW, MR. ORANGE GROWER

Some of the orange growers of Southern California are worried because the continual rains check the shipment of their fruit. It will be all the better if it does cause a little delay in the getting of the crop to the eastern markets. In spite of the high color California oranges carry this year they are really still pretty tart. They will be better next month than this month, and will not deteriorate in quality until May or June unless unusually hot weather comes. Then in a week or two the Florida crop will be entirely out of the way and leave the market free for our delicious oranges. The way people are employed at the East and the way money is circulating, there will be a demand there for all the oranges we can send them this season.—Los Angeles Times.

THE FIGHT AGAINST EXTRAVAGANCE

Representative James A. Frear of Wisconsin, a minority member of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors, has devised a plan which, if he could put it in force, would probably accomplish what he has for several years been trying to bring about, namely, the abolition of the abuses attending appropriations for river and harbor work, and favoritism in the expenditure of such funds. His plan is to create a federal board, of a class as high as the Interstate Commerce Commission, which shall have the management of all waterway improvements. Similar boards, he says, control waterway improvements in other countries, wherever an intelligent waterway system has been put in force.

The majority members of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors have reported for passage a bill calling for the appropriation of $38,000,000. Mr. Frear believes that one-half of this sum will be wasted if its expenditure is authorized. That it will be authorized by the House seems to be a foregone conclusion. There is some hope that it will be amended in the Senate so as to reduce the total to some extent. Despite the determined opposition of the minority members of the House committee, friends of the bill say it will pass the House without the formality of a roll call.

In his report Mr. Frear points out that, during the last forty years, transportation by river routes, except on period, more than $240,000,000 has been appropriated for improvements in connection with the Mississippi, Missouri and Ohio rivers, besides great sums for work on smaller streams. This despite the fact that the use of the rivers was steadily decreasing.

It is high time, with the government seeking new objects of taxation, in order to supply the constant drain, that more men with the insight and determination of Mr. Frear should come forward and put an end to the bolstering of official tenure by sending to the home district money to be wasted in public projects.—Christian Science Monitor.

SOME ROAD MONEY!

Some people think California is pretty extravagant to have voted $33,000,000 in bonds for state highways, but there are others. Pennsylvania is going to spend $24,850,000, raised by direct tax, in permanent highway work during the coming biennial period. W. A. Avey, former Assemblyman from Riverside County, writes the Riverside Press as follows, from his temporary home at Pittsburg:

Enclosed please find clipping of road appropriations recommended to the Pennsylvania legislature, which amount to $24,000,000 for the biennial period.

I have read so much in the California papers of late regarding the extravagance of your state administration, when money for all purposes recommended in the budget for your biennial period amounts to about $36,000,000. I thought that a comparison of these figures might furnish some food for thought to some of the people who do nothing but find fault with California expenditures.

Another thing I wish to call your attention to is that your state highways department in California builds two miles of road for the price that one mile of road costs in Pennsylvania, and anyone familiar with both systems would not consider it an extravagant statement to say that the California roads are twice as good as ours.

The clipping which Mr. Avey sends is as follows, and it gives a comprehensive idea of how the good roads movement is spreading in the East:

HARRISBURG, Jan. 18.—The state highway department today announced that it had prepared a budget for submission in the general assembly calling for $24,850,000 for two years. Commissioner Black said that the budget contained "the department's own figures," and had no reference to previous announcements. The budget follows:

Six million dollars per year for state highway construction, $12,000,000.
One million dollars per year for construction of state highway routes in boroughs, $2,000,000.
One million five hundred thousand dollars per year for state aid, construction and maintenance, $3,000,000.
Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per year for the purchase of turnpikes and toll bridges, $5,000,000, the local authorities, in all cases, paying 50 per cent of the cost of freeing toll roads and bridges.
Township road bonds deficiency for the years 1912-1913, and 1914, $1,350,000.

In addition to the above also the necessary legislation to make available the automobile license fees for state highway maintenance, $3,000,000 per year, $6,000,000. Total, $24,850,000.
California taxpayers who think this state is reckless in its expenditures of money will do well to study these figures, remembering they are only one item in Pennsylvania's budget. States and communities that go ahead and do things spend money liberally; and what some people call extravagance is a sign of progress.

THE STATE'S PROSPERITY

Trade At Home-Buy Home Products

A Californian—either native or adopted—does not require to be interested in mere statistics to feel his blood stir with pride at the statement just given out by Charles R. Thorburn, executive secretary of the Home Industrial League of California, telling of the year's financial activities in the matter of "home products—grown or manufactured."

Although there were countless "wiseacres" who told us that California would have to suffer greatly during 1916 as a result of the inevitable post-exposition slump," declares Mr. Thorburn, "the league has compiled figures to prove beyond the least question that not only did the bugaboo of the "post exposition slump" fail to materialize, but the records of the state were completely broken—in all lines of home industry—by the sales of and receipts for goods made or grown in California during 1916.

More new factories were opened up in California during 1916 than during any other previous year. For example, in Oakland alone we found that during a single six months of the year the factory employe population increased by more than 125 per cent. In addition to that the existing—the already established—factories of the state sold much more of their products in 1916 than during any other year of the state's history. Mr. Thorburn particularly called attention to the fact that the state's prosperity during 1916 was no mere "war baby" prosperity, and that the phenomenal growth of the state's factory output was all in the lines of legitimate permanent peace lines.

"While it is a fact," admits Mr. Thorburn, "that some of the state's industrial prosperity is due to the export of California-made goods, the feature of the year's activities is the enormous increase in the sale and consumption, within the boundaries of the state of California, of the goods made and grown here—with the consequent big falling off in the quantity of goods imported here for local consumption."

Just what caused the sudden great increase of the sales in California of goods made within the boundaries of the state, or grown here, was at first somewhat puzzling to the officials of the Home Industrial league. But after Secretary Thorburn had addressed communications to the most prominent department stores in the state, and to heads of other large retailing enterprises in the larger cities, the reason became obvious.

According to the majority of the dealers, the enormous increase in the sale of home-made and home-grown goods is due simply to the remarkable increase during 1916 of the specific demands of women shoppers for "something made in California." In short, these merchants report to the Home Industry league, although few of these merchants are members of the league, that they sold so much of home-made and home-grown articles simply because there went up during 1916 such a popular clamor for local goods in preference to articles imported from outside the state, due to the powerful educational campaign conducted by the Home Industry League of California.

But while the merchants give the credit to the Home Industry league for the monumental success of the year in keeping California's spending money at home, Executive Secretary Thorburn is quick to announce that every merchant in every town, no matter how small, provided it supports a newspaper, should give a great share of the credit to the local publication.

"While it is true," declared Mr. Thorburn, "that the enormous demand for home-made and home-grown goods is due to the educational campaign conducted by the league, the response of the editors of the state's newspapers, in even the smallest communities, has been so hearty—so enthusiastic—that it is now squarely up to the merchants and manufacturers of the state to recognize the invaluable services of these California editors in the giving out of their future orders for advertising and printing."

"A striking feature of the editorial review of California papers during 1916," says Mr. Thorburn, "has been the space given to educating the people of their respective communities into a realization of the financial benefits which would accrue to those people individually if they would "TRADE AT HOME, AND INVARIABLY GIVE THE PREFERENCE IN THEIR PURCHASES TO GOODS MADE OR GROWN WITHIN THE STATE."

How to Live Long
One of the rules for living long and being happy while doing it, is to eat sparingly and work hard.
It is an excellent rule for the fellow who does not follow it. The one who, either from choice or necessity, is governed by it has a sickly, joyless life, its asperities softened only by the fact that death comes early.

Getting Rich
The Pacific Coast sends hides to the East and buys them back at extortionate rates in various forms of leather. People out here have the nerve to go to the grocery and order canned fruits and vegetables bearing an Ohio or New York label.
We use more automobiles out here than any other community does, but shrink modestly from constructing any of them, much preferring to fatten the payrolls of Detroit.

In fact the Pacific Coast furnishes much raw material and puts up fancy prices for the finished products that it ought to finish itself.
An excellent plan for getting rich is to adopt exactly opposite tactics. Why be the goat all the time?

Protecting the Bar
Members of the English bar oppose the admission of women to their dignified and moss-grown profession.
Women in England have learned to perform most of the duties once supposed to belong to the men. They may gather in the harvests, plow the land, drive a team, dig a ditch, but with the laws governing them in all these relationships they may have nothing to do. Moreover, English barristers still wear wigs, and no up-to-date woman

Human Side of Baseball

At this writing there is the threat of a strike in the baseball world.
It seems that the managers have been paying the players big salaries and have made money. By a little figuring they reach the conclusion that by paying a larger portion of the salary to themselves, at the end of the season they would have more in the treasury than were they to continue paying the players. They seem surprised that the players do not pass resolutions endorsing the plan.

Shouting for Peace

There are many sorts of people advocating peace, the largest class inspired by the best of motives.
The class making the most noise about it cares nothing for peace, and is endeavoring to concentrate the influence of this great neutral country upon the effort to bring about the triumph of one of the belligerents. All in the name of neutrality.
I wonder if this is fooling anybody.

Moving Picture Salaries

We were told in great detail how one moving picture actor was receiving $670,000 a year salary. Probably there was none so ivory-domed as to believe so wild a tale.
Now they are trying to tell us that another movie actor is to receive more than $200,000 a year more than the first.
As a sizing up of the situation the comment, "What fools these mortals be!" never has been excelled. Yet mortals are not such fools as some publicity persons seem to think.

The Big Pug

A young gentleman whose picture clearly indicates the matinee idol, and whose language would do credit to a professor of philology, makes known that the great ambition of his life is to become heavy weight champion.
There really isn't much in the position. One makes money for a time, and then another ambitious soul comes along and knocks the champion's block off, and after a period in the gutter a charity ward in the hospital is the likely finish.

AMUSEMENTS

The West End
"I look like a boy!" exclaimed Marie Doro as she emerged from the gloom of the Lasky Company's Theater, where she had just seen herself on the screen in "Oliver Twist," in which she will appear at the West End Theater tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. "I look like a boy and now I am happy"—and there was no doubt about it. The charming Lasky star did look like a ragged little street urchin of nearly a century ago. The battered cap nearly hid her short locks, her coat with the torn sleeve dangled, and worn and torn trousers covered her, while badly scarred shoes encased her dainty feet.

"That was the only thing that worried me," she said, as she walked towards her dressing room—"I was afraid I wouldn't look like a boy. Now that I have discovered I do, I hope to play boy parts all my life. I really think nature intended me for a boy, because I have always loved to be in boys' clothes."

"Of course I was delighted when the Lasky Company told me I was to play 'Oliver Twist' on the screen. It is quite useless for me to say that I have always been an admirer of Dickens, for everyone is that, but I enjoyed playing the part of Oliver on the stage in the all-star revival a few years ago, and I had so hoped to play it again that I had my costumes and waiting carefully laid away in a trunk waiting for the time to come. All I had to do when I heard that I was to play it for the Lasky Company was to dig down into the trunk and bring forth the clothes and see if I had grown out of them—but I hadn't. They fit me just as well as they did four years ago and I was all ready to begin the picture."

Charles Dickens' Christmas Carol will be a feature on the West End program.

At the Princess

Mrs. Vernon Castle, star of International's new playhouse serial "Patricia," which will be shown at the Princess Theater in a few days, expresses herself strongly against the practice frequently indulged in of employing substitutes for the difficult and dangerous feats film stars are frequently called upon to perform.

"Why employ one to do what one can do quite as well myself?" Mrs. Castle asks. "In making moving pictures it is fatal to success. To have the heroine of the story arouse the interest and sympathy of the audience to an intense point and at the climax let them see or even suspect, that another person has been substituted to perform the thrilling deed called for in the plot, the audience feels, and rightly so, that it has been cheated, robbed of its sympathy and affection perhaps for a heroine who fails to 'make good in a pinch.'"

S. L. Thomason Speeded On North Carolina Trip By Friends' Best Wishes

S. L. Thomason, who left today for Asheville, N. C., was given a rousing "send off" last night, when the Men's Brotherhood of the First Methodist church met at the home of J. W. Nelson, 410 So. Broadway. Mr. Thomason has been closely identified with the work of the Brotherhood and has won the love and high esteem of its members, and it was with great sorrow that they heard he was to leave them.

John Michelson, the president, was in charge of the exercises and addresses were given by Rev. F. G. Watson, Rev. Edward Lee, George Heil and Mr. Michelson, with a response by Mr. Thomason.

Following these, ice cream and cake were served and an hour spent in social conversation. Before leaving several hymns were sung, prayer offered by Rev. F. G. SHE KNEW

A city young woman went out to teach a country school. The class in arithmetic was before her. She said:

"Now, children, if there are 10 sheep on one side of a wall, and one sheep jumps over, how many will be left?"

Then up piped the little tow-headed daughter of a farmer: "No sheep, teacher; no sheep."

"Oh, oh," cried the city young woman, reproachfully, "you are not so stupid as that. Think again. If there were 10 sheep on one side of the wall, and one sheep jumped over nine sheep would be left, don't you see that?"

"No, no, no," persisted the child. "If one sheep jumped over all the others would jump after."

My father raises sheep." Then seeing the puzzled look on the teacher's face, the little tow-head explained apologetically: "You know mathematics, teacher, but I know sheep."

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. J. H. Pullen "Victim" at Happy Affair Last Evening For Anniversary

Mrs. Floyd McClay planned and carried out very nearly a surprise last night, in honor of the birthday of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Pullen at her home on North Birch street. Mrs. McClay had stealthily carried in some long-stemmed violets, which shed their sweet fragrance over the house.

When the company of friends arrived, the petite little lady was very much taken aback, but she soon recovered her sunny spirits and made all welcome.

A jolly little game was played, making words from that of Mrs. Pullen. Mrs. G. W. Ford proved the most clever in forming the words and was awarded the prize, a pretty hand-painted Japanese vase. Mrs. Seymour took the consolation. Whist was also enjoyed and before the guests departed, cake and coffee, taken by the invaders, were served and Mrs. Pullen was wished many more such happy anniversaries.

Besides Dr. and Mrs. Pullen and Mr. and Mrs. McClay there were present Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Cryer, Mmes. George Law, John Ryan, Seymour, G. W. Ford, Norman and Jack McClay.

Typical California Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Price and son Ernest, who are here from Utah, visiting at the home of S. W. Price of Bolsa, were guests on Sunday last at a delightful dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Haish at Bolsa.

Coming from a country where the snow lay two feet thick and the thermometer since they left not going above zero, the beautiful calla lilies which decked the home, and the bountiful dinner, composed of vegetables and luscious fruits grown in the open, were a marvel to the visitors.

During the afternoon social chat and lively music were enjoyed.

Complimentary Recital

A musical treat of unusual merit is to be given tonight at the Grand Opera House. The great Scotch baritone, Glen Ellison, will appear in a special recital, arranged for through the courtesy of the Thomas A. Edison Company with the combined efforts of Carl G. Stock.

Mr. Ellison's recital is unique, enjoyable and most satisfying. He will feature many of the favorite Scotch ballads which have made him famous both here and abroad.

The recital is entirely complimentary; there is no charge whatever, but admission tickets must be obtained from Carl G. Stock, the jeweler.

IRVINE-ROEPKE
Home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Irvine Scene of Pretty Wedding Last Evening

Miss Blanche Irvine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Irvine of 818 Garfield street, yesterday evening at 8 o'clock, became the winsome bride of Roy Roepke, who is in the employ of the Pacific Electric company between this city and Los Angeles.

The home was made beautiful with greenery and feathery acacias artistically arranged in jars.

Rev. E. J. Inwood, former pastor of the First Methodist church here, officiated at the marriage. Miss Catherine Aseltine of La Crescenta, acting as bridesmaid and Joe Irvine, brother of the bride, as best man.

The beautiful bride was attired in a lovely gown of white satin and carried a cluster of white carnations, which was later captured by Miss Dorothy Summers.

Following the congratulations and viewing the hosts of handsome wedding gifts, ice cream and cake were served the company and Mr. and Mrs. Roepke departed for Los Angeles. They will be absent about a week, after which they will make their home in this city. The going away gown was a stunning mauve colored tulle with white picture hat.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Harry Hayes sweetly sang "Oh Promise Me," and Miss Nellie Irvine, sister of the bride, and Miss Esther Van Hynning played a wedding march for piano and violin. Mrs. Hayes rendered "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," at the conclusion of the impressive rites.

The wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Atchison, Miss Esther Van Hynning, Reginald Inwood, Mr. and Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. E. J. Inwood, Mrs. E. P. Richards of San Juan Capistrano, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Campbell, Miss Dorothy Summers, Miss Violet Campbell, Mrs. Harry N. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hotchkiss of Lakeview, Ore., J. T. Wool, Willard Best, Miss Catherine Aseltine of La Crescenta, Joe and Paul Irvine and Miss Nellie Irvine.

"Sweet Sixteen" Party

The usually dignified young people of the Christian church turned Old Father Time around a bit last evening and became kids again just for the night and very charming and sweet were the lads and lassies as they gathered in the social rooms of the church to the number of fifty.

Compunct judges decided that Miss Verno Nimmo as the charming Scotch lassie Jean and Frank Hantsberger as Buster Brown, deserved the prizes, which were boxes of delicious candies. Ferns and cherry blossoms made the rooms look dainty and attractive and the time sped happily away with games of drop the handkerchief, double cousins and their companions.

Late in the evening pink lemonade, doughnuts and all-day suckers were served the appreciative company.

ACCOMMODATION FOR TOURISTS ABUNDANT IN CALIFORNIA

Circular Letter Sent By Salt Lake to Correct Wrong Impressions In East

In an effort to correct impressions in the East that California hotels are full and to overflowing, the Salt Lake Route has sent circular letters to soliciting representatives in the East, advising them that such a condition does not obtain throughout the state or throughout Southern California. It is believed many have given up proposed trips to California because of the reported condition.

"It is true that it is practically impossible at the present time to obtain accommodations in certain well-known Pasadena winter resort hotels and this condition will, no doubt, obtain for some little time, possibly through March," reads the circular letter. "These hotels represent a very small proportion of the hotel capacity of Los Angeles and Southern California. Thousands of excellent hotels, apartment houses, furnished bungalows and furnished flats of every class are available. California winter visitors may still obtain a comfortable dwelling place accompanied by such service and surroundings as they may care to pay for. In particular the towns surrounding Los Angeles have ample accommodations.

"Please advise prospective Southern California visitors accordingly and assure them that while we have more visitors here now than ever before, we are still in a position to take care of more. The winter season is now at its height and right now is the time to make that trip to California."

WANTS TO KNOW IS HE CAN START PRIVATE MAIL ROUTE AT GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Feb. 1.—J. O. Arkley, a rancher here, has written to the post office department wanting to know if there is any law against the establishment of a private mail route. Efforts have long been made to get a rural route from Garden Grove, but the government has been so slow to act that many or those interested are becoming anxious. Arkley states that he believes a private route can be worked up probably with 100 upon it who would pay 50 cents a year for the delivery of their mail.

IN THE JUSTICE COURT

IT WAS GARCIA UPON RAILROAD TRACKS, SAYS WITNESS

Testimony Goes Back to Brutal Killing of Reyes Molino In 1909

"It was Jacinto Garcia. The moon shone full on his face. He said 'va-moose' and struck me down with a club."

So testified Ferd Prince. This was by far the most important bit of evidence that went into the record of the preliminary examination of Jacinto Garcia this morning. Garcia is accused of the brutal murder of Reyes Molino on the night of April 25, 1909, on the Santa Fe tracks near Santa Clara avenue.

Garcia and his son disappeared the night of the murder, and went to Mexico. The son was brought back and sent to San Quentin for firing several bullets into Luis Menzo, who was the principal witness against him, and who was shot a few hours before Molino's dead body was found on the railroad tracks, the head horribly beaten with a rock.

Prince was on the road to his home at Orange when he saw a man sitting huddled up on the railroad tracks. From him came a choking sound. Beside him stood a man.

Prince started to stop, when suddenly the man standing up raised a small rifle and struck Prince, and drove him away.

Prince said he knew Garcia by sight, and in the clear moonlight easily identified him.

"If you had heard a man yell 'va-moose' as he did and hit you with a club, you would remember his face," said Prince when cross-questioned by Attorney A. T. E. Chapman of Los Angeles.

Garcia was arrested here several weeks ago when carrying a revolver. The arrest was made by Officer F. M. Dean. Deputy District Attorney Koepsel is prosecuting.

T. G. Cervantes, now a police detective of Long Beach, testified to make proof of the death of Molino. Cervantes worked upon the case in 1909. Arthur Miranda, stepson of Molino, was an important witness today. He told of a row between the Garcias on one side and Molino and Manzo on the other. He heard Garcia say "he would get them that night."

Held to Answer
Bobby Northrup and Frank Spencer were ordered held to answer to the superior court for trial on two charges, burglary and grand larceny. They are the young men who have admitted that they broke into the Ford garage and stole a machine, which was recovered in Los Angeles, where the two were arrested.

Caught in Alley
David Claremore, aged 22, a suspicious character, was arrested when hiding in an alley back of the Fischle Candy Kitchen, Anaheim, trying to break in, by Officer Brunsworth about 4 o'clock yesterday morning. He carried a loaded 32-caliber revolver, and a box of shells.

The prisoner denied having been in trouble before. In a dialect between Lowland Scotch and English he stated he was a candy-maker by trade and a native son of San Francisco. Questioned, he admitted having been arrested.

For months Santa Ana readers have seen the constant expression of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, and read about the good work they have done in this locality. What other remedy ever produced such convincing proof of merit?

Mrs. H. A. Moesser, 910 West First street, Santa Ana, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I suffered from backache. There was a dull aching in the small of my back and the action of my kidneys was too frequent, causing much annoyance. My feet swelled, caused by the retention of the kidney secretions. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and procured some from the White Cross Drug Co. They removed the pains and greatly helped the other symptoms."

AT THE COURTHOUSE SECOND OTAY DAM DAMAGE ACTION IS PUT IN FILES HERE

Verdict of Not Guilty Brought In By Jury That Tried Buena Park Rancher

The second of the Otoy dam damage cases to be filed here was received today from Los Angeles, where it was started, by County Clerk Williams. The first of the actions, one in which $122,500 damages is asked by a salt company that had its works destroyed in the flood following the breaking of the dam, was filed last week.

In the second action Mary H. James is the plaintiff and the city of San Diego is the defendant. The plaintiff's house was washed away, and the ranch was covered with water. Household goods are listed as having been lost. Judgment for $10,763.85 is asked.

When this case was brought up in Los Angeles, a decision was reached that all of the numerous damage suits against San Diego city as a result of the breaking of the dam should be tried in Orange county.

Found Not Guilty
A verdict of not guilty was brought in by the jury that tried E. H. Burger, a Buena Park rancher, who was charged with a serious offense involving a 12-year-old girl. In cross-questioning a San Diego policeman, who said that Burger had made admissions to him, Attorney R. Y. Williams brought out that the testimony given by the man at the trial was different from that given at the preliminary examination. In the argument before the jury much was made of that point. Burger testified that he was questioning a San Diego policeman until he was exhausted and he hardly knew what he said.

50-50 COAST ROAD PLAN IS ENDORSED

JOINT BUILDING BY STATE AND COUNTY IS FAVORED

Big General Advertising Campaign For Southern California Is Approved

At the monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange County held at Orange last night a resolution was passed endorsing the proposal to have a coast road from Oxnard to San Juan Capistrano built and paid for, half by the state and half by Ventura, Los Angeles and Orange counties.

Under that plan $1,000,000 would be expended, $500,000 of it by the state. The remaining $500,000 would be apportioned according to mileage. It was stated last night that Orange county would have less than a third of the mileage.

T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach, chairman of the board of Supervisors, declared that the construction of the proposed boulevard near the Pacific's edge would be one of the grandest things that could happen, for it would make a drive that would be world famous.

He said that Orange county's share would not be over $166,000, and increased valuations along the coast would compensate the county for the expenditure.

"We ought to be tickled to death to get half the cost paid by the state," declared Talbert, "and we ought to urge the state to make the appropriation." Talbert moved the adoption of a resolution endorsing the plan. J. P. Greeley of Balboa seconded.

L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach declared that he opposed the plan, for he believed it, the duty of the State Highway Commission to build the road out of state highway bonds money. Wallace said that the original highway plan of ex-Governor Gillett was for a coast road, and the county should demand the road.

J. A. Armitage of Sunset Beach declared that since there is already an organization back of the road for the three counties this county would make a mistake to try to start out on a new track.

"When our neighbors are with us, then is the time to work for the project."

"I have not favored a coast boulevard to be paid for entirely by the county," said Supervisor Jasper Leck, "but I am in favor of this plan, and I believe the people of the county would back it up with a bond issue. A good feature of the plan is that after the road is built it will be turned over to the state, which will maintain it. It would be cheaper to pay interest on the bonds than to maintain a dirt road there." Leck said the division of the $500,000 among the three counties would be by mileage.

J. P. Greeley declared it would be folly to break away from Los Angeles and Ventura counties in this plan. Wallace wanted to refer the matter to a committee, but he failed to get a second to his substitute motion, and the original motion made by Talbert was carried without a dissenting vote. Each local Chamber of Commerce will pass resolutions and send them to the Board of Control.

HARBOR LINES ARE APPROVED BY THE SECRETARY OF WAR

The map of the harbor lines of Newport Bay has been approved by the Secretary of War.

This announcement was made last night to the Associated Chambers of Commerce by L. H. Wallace of Newport Beach, who read the following letter, written at Washington, D. C., by Congressman Wm. Kettner of San Diego:

"I have just been rushed to death, almost, with work on the different appropriations which I am trying to get through this session, and what with caucus meetings I have hardly had time for my voluminous correspondence."

"The map showing harbor lines at Newport was approved by the Secretary of War under date of January 18, as authorized in Sec. 3 of the river and harbor act, approved July 27, 1916."

"Every point we win makes us closer to our goal, and I am hoping that your dreams in connection with Newport Harbor will all be realized, and am working hard toward that end."

"With kindest personal regards and good wishes, I am

"Sincerely yours,

"WM. KETTNER."

A map showing the harbor lines was on exhibition last night, and was examined with much interest.

ward to be paid for entirely by the county," said Supervisor Jasper Leck, "but I am in favor of this plan, and I believe the people of the county would back it up with a bond issue. A good feature of the plan is that after the road is built it will be turned over to the state, which will maintain it. It would be cheaper to pay interest on the bonds than to maintain a dirt road there." Leck said the division of the $500,000 among the three counties would be by mileage.

J. P. Greeley declared it would be folly to break away from Los Angeles and Ventura counties in this plan. Wallace wanted to refer the matter to a committee, but he failed to get a second to his substitute motion, and the original motion made by Talbert was carried without a dissenting vote. Each local Chamber of Commerce will pass resolutions and send them to the Board of Control.

General Advertising

Talbert explained the plan for advertising Southern California as entered upon by various counties, hotels and railroads. The idea is to use high class publications in the East in a general campaign for Southern California. He wanted to know if the Associated Chambers would endorse a proposal for Orange county to join in contributing to the fund.

J. P. Baumgartner of Santa Ana declared the plan to be good, and sure to bring results. He said much community advertising was done at a loss. D. Eyman Huff explained the great benefits derived by the California Fruit Growers' Exchange by general advertising.

On Baumgartner's motion, the proposal for the county to appropriate money for the general advertising was endorsed.

Investigate Report

F. C. Krause of Anaheim said that a report had reached Anaheim that D. W. McDannald, county representative at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, had boosted some particular localities. Krause understood that McDannald should boost no locality, but should act in a general way for the entire county. He said he had letters as exhibits. President Bradford appointed A. Nelson of Buena Park, H. A. Wassum of Tustin and H. L. Heffner of Huntington Beach as a committee to investigate the matter.

Harry Whitaker of Anaheim said that there is a bill before the Legislature to prohibit boards of supervisors from using money for advertising purposes. The matter was referred to the Legislative committee.

Sample Food

Heimer of the California Breakfast Food Company, a new industry started at Orange, explained the value of the product, Fignuts, and gave samples of it to each person present.

An announcement was made that "Opportunity," produced at Orange, will be shown next week.

Three new representatives were announced. J. H. Blagge from Seal Beach, H. P. Noll from Anaheim and J. H. Evans from Fairview.

The address of welcome was given by F. E. Hallman of Orange, and the response by Assemblyman J. C. Burke of Santa Ana. A. S. Bradford of Placentia, president, presided.

COFFINS SO SCARCE IN LONDON THEY ARE TAKEN WITHOUT LIDS

LONDON, Feb. 1.—The British undertaker has sent out a plea for help. He can't get enough coffins and the cemeteries can't dig graves fast enough to bury the dead.

The trouble is that all the available men have been called up for war service. The undertakers who were wont to make their own coffins have lost so many men that they had to fall back upon the big manufacturer. The demand upon the big factories became so great that their supplies are exhausted.

In some cases the rush for coffins has been so great that undertakers have taken them without lids.

HURLEY RESIGNS FROM FEDERAL TRADE BOARD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—The resignation of Edward N. Hurley as chairman and member of the Federal Trade Commission became effective today. Hurley, who made the first move to establish a uniform accounting system for the industries of this country, and who is a prominent Democrat, gave "the pressure of personal business" as his reason for resigning. Private business pays so much better than public office now, President Wilson has frequently stated recently, that it is difficult to get good men for government posts.

WOMAN'S PARTY AND CONGRESSIONAL UNION PLAN TO AMALGAMATE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—Politicians got it straight from headquarters here today that the Woman's party and the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage probably will amalgamate early in March.

The Woman's party is composed exclusively of woman voters. Membership in it is limited to the women of the twelve suffrage states and it has grown so rapidly that it now boasts a membership of 1000 greater than the Congressional Union's membership in the thirty-six non-suffrage states.

The proposed union of these two important organizations is looked upon by politicians as evidence that the fight for passage of the federal suffrage amendment is to be pressed harder from now on.

First intimation that the voting and non-voting women of the country intend to weld themselves into one organization came when calls for a convention of the Congressional Union and a convention of the Woman's party were issued coincidentally. These conventions will be held jointly at the national headquarters of the Congressional Union, March 14 inclusive.

Today Miss Alice Paul, head of the Congressional Union, and officials of the Woman's party stated that the executive committee of both the union and the Woman's party recommend that the two associations be merged under the name of the National Woman's Party.

Supporting the women voters the whole machinery of the Congressional Union in the thirty-six non-suffrage states will be used to bring pressure to bear upon Congress and the White House. The union officials are convinced that if President Wilson can be induced to use his influence with his party the passage of the federal amendment will be assured.

Plans for this joint campaign by the women of the suffrage and non-suffrage states will be discussed and decided upon at the March convention immediately after the amalgamation of the two progressive suffrage organizations is affirmed.

About 3000 women are expected to attend the convention, which promises to be one of the most important suffrage gatherings ever held in the country. The convention will be held at the national headquarters of the Congressional Union here in the "Little White House." It will open with a reception on the night of March 1 and will terminate in a mighty demonstration at the big White House on March 14.

Miss Mabel Vernon, of Delaware, is chairman of the committee on arrangements; Mrs. Helena Hill Weed, of Connecticut, is chairman of the credentials committee, and Miss Edith Goode, of Washington, has been made chairman of the important committee on hospitality.

DICKENS' IMMORTAL CHARACTERS RE-IMMORTALIZED.

Motion Picture Adaptation of "OLIVER TWIST" Makes Pen Pictures Live Again

THE characters which Charles Dickens described in his novels have become immortal. Some of them are used today as descriptive adjectives. Fagin, the teacher of thievery in "Oliver Twist," furnishes an adjective to the English dictionaries. It will be remembered that at the time of the writing of "Oliver Twist," which first appeared in Bentley's Magazine in 1837 and 1838, George Cruikshank, the well known illustrator, made his immortal drawings of the characters which Dickens had so marvelously described. There are many who will recall the great controversy which arose at the time of Dickens' death, when Cruikshank declared that it was his drawings of the characters for the original story, "The Adventures of Oliver Twist," which inspired Dickens to complete the novel in its present form. This claim was indignantly denied by the admirers and supporters of the author.

Whether the claims of Cruikshank were true or not is of little concern to us today, but the controversy itself is of interest in view of the fact that "Oliver Twist" has been adapted as a motion picture by the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company for the Paramount Program, with Marie Doro in the title role, and that the Cruikshank drawings have been used as the models in building the backgrounds for the action of the play. Going still further in their determination to preserve as far as possible the spirit of the original, the producers have actually reproduced on the screen exact replicas of some of the situations which were depicted in the original illustrations, and every player in the cast in making up for his or her role has approached as nearly as possible the exact lines of the drawings.

Though "Oliver Twist" will live eternally as a story and has been a success as a play—Marie Doro herself starred in the title role in the great revival of the play at the New Amsterdam Theatre, in New York, during the Dickens Centenary in 1912—nevertheless the reality of the author's descriptions of the character depended upon the reader's imaginative powers, the Cruikshank drawings limited only the high lights of the story, and the stage productions ceased with the fall of the curtain. With the motion picture version of the story the characters are brought to life and experience a new immortality, for once enacted before the camera they are unchangeable.

Sincerely appreciating the responsibility which devolved upon them in making a permanent motion picture record of the Dickens characters, the Lasky Company before filming one foot of this Paramount Picture made a painstaking study of authoritative data on London at the time of which Dickens wrote and of both the Cruikshank drawings and of the earliest available editions of the story itself. In addition to starring Miss Doro, who had already created a sensation in the stage version of the play, the producers engaged two of the best known character actors in the country for the important roles of Fagin and Bill Sikes in the persons of Tully Marshall and Hobart Bosworth, respectively.

HAWAII

By W. H. THOMAS

AT HONOLULU

We arrived in Honolulu at about 5 o'clock in the morning, October 17, 1914. We went directly to the Pleasanton hotel, to which our trunk had preceded us a week. We found mail awaiting us here. Many letters from persons resident of Honolulu. We found a bunch of Santa Ana Registers covering the period of a week immediately following our leaving home, awaiting us. They were indeed most welcome. The news was most inspiring.

Among the mail was a card from ex-Governor Walter F. Frear, inviting us to a luncheon with him that day at the University club. We were glad to accept his kind invitation, and indeed enjoyed the noon hour with him very much.

The Hawaiian Islands are a winter and summer tourist resort, as practically every month of the year, as we were informed, is very like our month of May. While Chicago is shivering in the winter, Hawaii is warm; while New York is burning up with the heat of summer, Hawaii is cool. The tourists swim at the famous Waikiki beach in December as well as in June. Mark Twain some time since said that the Hawaiian Islands were "the loveliest fleet of islands that lies anchored in any ocean," and they really are geographically and sentimentally the "Heart of the Pacific."

Our own sainted "Bob" Burdette, writing of Hawaii, said, "This climate of Honolulu, soft and fragrant, just smothered me through my convalescence."

Although it rained every day we were in the islands, and on the very spot where we were at that, we can truthfully say, and do say, that our stay was altogether too short.

On the first night of our stay at the Pleasanton hotel, we were attracted by what to us was an unusually pretty sight, the monkey pod drive. This drive is so called, as we were informed, in honor of the great shade trees which adorn the outward boundary of the five acres of tropical garden surrounding the hotel. This drive is illuminated at night by hundreds of tiny red, white and blue electric lights. This lighting was what attracted our attention, a very pleasing sight indeed.

We had not been at the Pleasanton long before the office boy informed us that there was a telephone call for us. The call was from the Honorable W. P. Jarrett, high sheriff of the territory of Hawaii. Really we were not aware that we had violated any law, and we could not understand what in the world he might want of "us," as he said he wanted to see us in the sheriff's office in the city. We had forged no one's name, had issued no no-fund checks, committed no burglary, had carried away no person's property.

We thought of all the mean things we had ever done. The perspiration stood on our noble (?) face like peas as we contemplated that interview to be in the sheriff's office.

At the appointed time we called at the sheriff's office of the county and city of Honolulu, at which place we met the high sheriff—a man about six feet tall, weighing about 240 pounds—and the sheriff of Oahu, Mr. Charles B. Rose, both splendid types of the genuine old Hawaiian stock—both men "wise as serpents" and to the law-abiding "harmless as doves." These men placed us under arrest (?), and informed us that they were determined that we should not leave the islands without seeing as much of the city of Honolulu and the island of Oahu as they could between them show us during our stay. They certainly spared neither time nor means to make that statement good.

Upon inquiry as to why this exceptionally fine hospitality, we discovered that they were put in possession of the fact that we were to visit the islands through the kindness of James A. Johnston, warden of the state prison at San Quentin, who had written the high sheriff, W. P. Jarrett, that we contemplated a trip to Hawaii and stated that we were interested in criminology, prison and penal reform, etc., that we had often visited our own state prisons, talked to the prisoners, etc.

On the first of the trip we were personally conducted by the high sheriff over a splendid road into the hills beyond Kounoa, where a grand panorama of the famous Maui valley, the great Punch Bowl, in which are located the government's target practice grounds, as well as a most commanding view of that great fortress, Diamond Head. From here, too, was a never-to-be-forgotten view of the world-famous Waikiki beach, Moana hotel. ("Moana" is the Hawaiian word for ocean).

This was the day when the good ship "Matsonia," which had borne us hither, was to leave again for the

EAT WITHOUT FEAR OF INDIGESTION OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

Instant Relief! "Pape's Diapepsia" Ends Your Stomach Trouble Forever

—Wonder what upset your stomach—what portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsia and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsia occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsia which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Advertisement.

good old U. S. A. We had arranged to be present at the dock to see those of our friends whom we had met on the voyage, and who were returning at this time, embark and start home again. Many of those with whom we had become acquainted "on the trip over" were now returning. Among these were our stateroom partner, Mr. W. H. Nelson of San Francisco, Mr. Ernest C. Stevens and Mr. Louis Curtis, both of Buffalo, N. Y.

Literally, hundreds were at the dock with leis on their hats, around their necks, in their hands. These leis are sort of wreaths made by the Hawaiians and sold to outgoing passengers and others. These are taken on board and are thrown off by the passengers from the ship as it leaves, and formerly it was believed that to the person catching them some exceptionally good fortune would come. A very pretty custom indeed. Many were the fond goodbys and pathetic greetings and most cordial, sincere and sympathetic were the alohas, and at this time too we experienced "just a little of the longing for the homeland." It was not our good fortune to have witnessed the sailing of any steamer for the Orient or the United States as the band played, as we are informed is the usual custom there, the famous "Aloha Oe." We can readily believe our own feeling that day that when the band plays and it comes to this, that about the only thing one can do is "to go into the stateroom and cry it out."

After this we visited the Queen's hospital, a very creditable institution, well kept and managed, and doing splendid work.

We had a most delightful and unique experience, too, in being temporarily summoned to appear before the Honolulu Ad club. This club meets once each week at a luncheon to discuss any and all questions of present day importance. It is an organization of boosters, than which there is none to excel. This club has no rules of order, no formality—and we would say, much informality. The president of the club told us that no motion was ever lost. We believe it. The "officer" of the Ad club who served us with the club's process, which was powerful enough to take us away from the sheriff, was none other than our former citizen, Guy L. Duckworth, son of J. W. Duckworth, former postmaster at Anaheim. No notice had been given us of this contemplated injustice (?), for that is what it really was—to the members of the club—as some malignant mind or heart, or both, had arranged after the luncheon and the business was transacted and all other discussions were completed, to have us inflict upon them a "speech" after every body else who wanted to talk had talked everybody else off the board. Then it was that this Ad club had the audacity to believe that we had the power to wake up such a "stupid" bunch. We longed for the presence of Jim Metzgar, that we might have shown them what a real booster is—and we told them so, in all seriousness. We also told them "right to their face" that that "bunch" as a whole made us think of a recent audience we had addressed in San Quentin prison. We had to advise them that this was intended for a joke, and that it was then proper to laugh before any of that sedate (?) outfit would permit the powder on their faces to be cracked by a smile.

They make those who speak stand on a chair. Much as we rebelled, they lifted us bodily (much as Paul Wright here did some time since—the Rev. Paul Wright, mind you, when he threw us out of Bry Williams' office over the counter) and placed us on a chair, and then compelled "vi et armis" to leave those who know us best know we belong and to set aside all "judicial dignity" and to deliver an "address" to this body of boosters. What we did to them would not look well in print. Neither would what they said to us. O, Allah, save the mark! It was "tips" everywhere. One had to use straws to drink his coffee, to be sure that he did not "tip the cup." Did you get that? That Ad club is still wondering. That bunch can't see a joke even when it is labeled.

Seriously, we have not had a more pleasant hour in many a year than with the splendid men who make up the personnel of the Honolulu Ad club. They are alive. They are absolutely up to date—to the very minute. They discuss, in the most frank and open manner and yet with all respect for the other fellow's point of view, any and all questions in which the public is interested, but with that good humor and enthusiasm of a bunch of college boys. Philadelphia Market
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 31.—Three cars sold. Market is lower; there is a good demand at prevailing prices.

Los Angeles Produce Market.
White onions jumped to $8.50 a hundred Wednesday, and the brown variety was boosted to $8.00. These advances were in line with predictions, and caused but little comment. As a matter of fact, $10 a hundred weight is expected to be the quotation for both sorts within the next ten days. Potatoes continue firm, with a possibility of another advance in prices for northern sorts. Early Rose and American Wonder seed potatoes are selling at the improved figure of $3.50 a hundred, and jobbers report a heavy demand from farmers for all kinds of seed spuds.

Vegetables are still selling for abnormal prices, and there appears to be little prospect of an easier supply, for some time to come. Lettuce of the better kind has been moved up to $1.50 and $1.55 a crate, and tomatoes are firm at $2.75 a crate for Florida stock. Root vegetables are in heavier demand as a result of the scarcity of greens, and for that reason it would not be surprising to see values climb higher.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts If Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become over-worked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Advertisement.

The Acid Test

There are inexperienced people who must know something of a thing before they will invest in it. There are cautious people who will not commit themselves to a thing until they have tried it out. These people are apprehensive about the handling of their estates after their deaths. Modern finance has devised a way through which a man can, if he is willing, observe the effects of his gift and still be able to withdraw it if experience shows that a mistake has been made. Let him place that portion of his estate which is to go to persons whose judgment he questions, in a trust fund. Let this trust fund be placed in the hands of a capable and efficient trustee with instructions to invest and re-invest for the beneficiaries, and in a manner pleasing to the creator of the trust. Let him require that periodical statements of the management of the trust fund be made to him. Let him reserve the right to change the terms of the trust at any time, or to terminate it and take back the fund whenever he sees fit. These things done, he may observe the workings of the trust he has created. He will note the class of securities in which the trust is invested, and the care shown by the trustee in handling the same. He will note the effect of the newly acquired income on the man or woman who enjoys it. If he finds he has made a mistake, he will withdraw or modify the income. If he finds that it works well, he will reap the reward of his beneficence while he lives and is assured of its continuance when he dies. If you find this plan attractive, the Orange County Trust and Savings Bank will be glad to talk to you and have a confidential conference with you.

week. It must arrive at Falmouth Sundays and leave Wednesdays.

Neutral ships plying within the barred zones do so at their own risk, although precautions are being taken to spare neutral ships which on February 1 are on the way to points in the barred zone, during an appropriate delay, yet it is urgently to be advised that they should be warned and directed to other routes by all means available.

Neutral ships lying in ports of the barred zones can with the same safety abandon the barred zones if they sail before February 3 and take the shortest route into the open district. Traffic of regular American passenger steamers can go unmolested if:

A—Falmouth is taken as the port of destination, and if

B—On the going and return journey the Scilly islands, as well as the point 50 degrees north 20 degrees west, be steered on. Along this route no German mines will be laid.

C—If steamers on this journey bear the following special signals, which only they will be permitted to display in American ports: A coating of paint on the ship's hull and the superstructure in vertical stripes three meters broad, alternating white and red; on every mast a large flag of checkered white and red, on the stern the American national flag; during the darkness the national flag and the coat of paint to be as easily recognizable as possible from a distance; and the ships must be completely and brightly illuminated.

D—If only one steamer runs each week in each direction, arriving at Falmouth on Sundays, leaving Falmouth on Wednesdays.

E—If guarantees and assurances are given by the American Government that these steamers carry no contraband (according to the German list of contraband).

HERE'S OFFICIAL TEXT OF NOTE SIGNED BY BERNSTORFF

Version Sent Unofficially From Berlin Varies From This

Following is the official text of the German note addressed to Secretary Lansing and signed by Count von Bernstorff, which may be substituted for unofficial text, imperfectly translated and transmitted:

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31.—(Translation.)—Washington, Jan. 31, 1917.—Mr. Secretary of State:

Your excellency was good enough to transmit to the Imperial Government a copy of the message which the President of the United States of America addressed to the Senate on the 22nd instant.

The Imperial Government has given it the earnest consideration which the President's statements deserve, inspired as they are by a deep sentiment of responsibility. It is highly gratifying to the Imperial Government to ascertain that the main tendencies of this important statement correspond largely to the desires and principles professed by Germany. These principles especially include self-government and equality of rights for all nations. Germany would be sincerely glad if in recognition of this principle countries like Ireland and India, which do not enjoy benefits of political independence, should now obtain their freedom. The German people also repudiate all alliances which serve to force the countries into a competition for might and to involve them in a net of selfish intrigues.

Promises Co-Operation for Lasting Peace

On the other hand, Germany will gladly co-operate in all efforts to prevent future wars. The freedom of the seas, being a preliminary condition of the free existence of nations and the peaceful intercourse between them, as well as the open door for the commerce of all nations, has always formed part of the leading principles of Germany's political program.

All the more the Imperial Government regrets that the attitude of her enemies who are so entirely opposed to peace makes it impossible for the world at present to bring about realization of these lofty ideals. Germany and her allies were ready to enter now into a discussion of peace and had set down as basis the guaranty of existence, honor and free development of their peoples.

Their aims, as has been expressly stated in the note of December 12, 1916, were not directed toward destruction or annihilation of their enemies, and were, according to their conviction, perfectly compatible with the rights of other nations. As to Belgium, for which such warm and cordial sympathy is felt in the United States, the Chancellor declared only a few weeks previously that its annexation had never formed part of Germany's intentions.

Would Prevent Belgium Being "Cat's Paw"

The peace to be signed with Belgium was to provide for such conditions in that country, with which Germany desires to maintain friendly neighborly relations, that Belgium should not be used again by Germany's enemies for the purpose of instigating continuous hostile intrigues. Such precautionary measures are all the more necessary, as Germany's enemies have repeatedly stated not only in speeches delivered by their leading men, but also in the statutes of the economical conference in Paris, that it is their intention not to treat Germany as an equal, even after peace has been restored, but to continue their hostile attitude and especially to wage a systematic economic war against her.

The attempt of the four allied powers to bring about peace has failed owing to the lust of conquest of their enemies, who desired to dictate the conditions of peace, under the pretense of following the principle of nationality our enemies have disclosed their real aims in this way, viz., to dismember and dishonor Germany, Austria-Hungary, Turkey and Bulgaria. To the wish of reconciliation they oppose the will of destruction. They desire a fight to the bitter end.

Acts of Enemies Make Retaliation Vital

A new situation thus has been created which forces Germany to new decisions. Since two years and a half England has been using her naval power for a criminal attempt to force Germany into submission by starvation. In brutal contempt of international law the group of powers led by England does not only curtail the legitimate trade of their opponents, but they also by ruthless pressure compel neutral countries either to forego altogether every trade not agreeable to the belligerent powers or to limit it according to their arbitrary decrees. The American Government knows the steps which have been taken to cause England and her allies to return to the rules of international law and to respect the freedom of the seas. The English Government, however, insists upon continuing its war of starvation, which does not at all affect the military power of its opponents, but compels women and children, the sick and the aged, to suffer for their country, pains and privations which endanger the vitality of the nation. Thus British tyranny mercilessly increases the sufferings of the world, indifferent to the laws of humanity, indifferent to the protests of the neutrals whom they severely harm, indifferent even to the silent longing for peace among England's own allies. Each day of the terrible struggle causes new destruction, new sufferings. Each day shortening the war will, on both sides, preserve the life of thousands of brave soldiers and be a benefit to mankind.

Compelled to Use All Weapons Available
The Imperial Government could not justify its own conscience before the German people and before history the neglect of any means destined to bring about the end of the war. Like the President of the United States, the Imperial Government had hoped to reach this goal by negotiations. After the attempts to come to an understanding with the belligerent powers have been answered by the latter with the announcement of an intensified continuation of the war, the Imperial Government, in order to serve the welfare of mankind on the higher sense and not to wrong its own people, is now compelled to continue the fight for existence, again forced upon it, the full employment of all the weapons at its disposal.

Sincerely trusting that the people and Government of the United States will understand the motives for this decision and its necessity, the Imperial Government hopes that the United States may view the new situation from the lofty heights of impartiality and assist, on their part, to prevent further misery and unavoidable sacrifice of human life.

Enclosing two memoranda regarding the details of the contemplated military measures at sea, I remain, etc., J. BERNSTORFF.

Tires when you want them - better service than ever Firestone

We want to tell you car owners what the opening of the New Firestone Branch Building in Los Angeles means to you. This building was dedicated January 31st. Hundreds of dealers and the executives from the Akron, Ohio, factory were present. The fact that it is the best-equipped tire distributing depot on the West Coast is interesting. But the essential point is that through this branch building, Firestone Tires are made more valuable to you than ever before.

The huge storage space in the Los Angeles building, combined with a most effective distributing organization, enables us to give you any Firestone Tire promptly. A sudden run on tires of a particular size may be cared for by a telegram to Los Angeles.

The more difficult repairs of both pleasure car and truck tires can be cared for in Los Angeles.

These advantages are added to the inbuilt Firestone values. Tire Quality, Prompt Delivery and Service, we can offer you in greater measure than ever before. "Most Miles per Dollar" takes on even a broader meaning through this new Firestone building. Give us the opportunity of proving these advantages.
